TAMAS HORVATH

Freelance
Graphic Designer

I'm a Budapest — Göteborg based graphic designer.

I've started my professional career 10 years ago and I'm a full time freelancer for at least 74 months by now.

I'm into clean, sophisticated shapes and forms, trying to keep things simple and make the most out of it while delivering the most thought through solution to my clients.

Fekete Zaj

Fekete Zaj Festival is in a way my most beloved child - it's all started in 2010 when I was just a visitor there, but since 2018 I've become the festival's one and only graphic designer with the opportunity to completely reshape their whole visual identity and managing it from head to toe on a year-to-year basis.

The 2022 edition included a very wide variety of things like various posters, wristbands, stage projections, merchandise, maps, booklets, recups, pins, a complete marketing kit with modular social media posts and all sorts of things.

Stalker

his project was truly an honour to be part of – a collaboration with the legendary Criterion Collection. They trusted me with the task to design a complete artwork for their re-release of Andrei Tarkovsky's timeless classic: Stalker. My intention here was to try to create a bridge between Stalker's cinematography and current-day graphic design by using Tarkovsky's photographs and his story's under-the-layer, non-verbal symbols, and complement those with minimalistic illustrations. The whole process involved making a limited-edition poster and a Blu-Ray/DVD box set, including it's wrap, the inserts, discs and it's menus.

THE CRITERION COLLECTION

STALKER
DISC TWO

Shot by the Criterion Collection in 2017, this conversation features novelist Geoff Dyer, author of Zona: A Book About a Film About a Journey to a Room, and editor and sound designer Walter Murch. They discuss the production of Stalker and the metaphysical questions director Andrei Tarkovsky raises in it.

The Criterion Collection, a continuing series of important classic and contemporary films, presents

STALKER
(Cinema)

SYNOPSIS:
One of the most immersive and revered experiences in cinema history, Andrei Tarkovsky's first Soviet feature is a metaphysical journey through an enigmatic, postapocalyptic landscape. A head guide, the Stalker, leads a writer and a scientist into the heart of the Zone, the restricted site of a long-ago disaster, where the three men eventually jettison on the Room, a place rumored to fulfill one's most deeply held desires. Adapting a science-fiction novel by Arkady and Boris Strugatsky, Tarkovsky created a challenging and visually stunning work with painstaking attention to material detail and a sense of organic atmosphere. A religious allegory, a reflection of contemporaneous political anxieties, a meditation on film itself - Stalker develops the viewer by opening up a multitude of possible meanings.

TWO-DVD SPECIAL EDITION FEATURES:
New high-definition digital restoration, with uncompressed monaural soundtrack. ○ A Poet in the Cinema: Andrei Tarkovsky in 1984 documentary by Donatella Badino. ○ New conversation between Geoff Dyer, author of Zona: A Book About a Film About a Journey to a Room, and editor Walter Murch. ○ New interview with University of Chicago professor Robert Bird, author of Andrei Tarkovsky: Elements of Cinema. ○ Interview from TKX! with cinematographer Alexander Knyazhinsky. ○ Interview from TKX! with set designer Rashit Safiullin. ○ New English subtitle translation. PLUS: An essay by critic Mark Le Fanu.

Sony One

Sony One is multi-platform streaming application, developed by Sony Pictures Entertainment for iOS, Android, Web and Smart TV platforms.

I've worked on this project as the Lead Designer for 3+ years, going through dozens of iterations and drawing several hundreds of layouts for mobile as well for desktop and TV screens, constantly tweaking the UX and UI aspect of the app while working together with multiple teams from Sony offices from all around the world to create the most versatile and satisfying streaming experience for the markets this app has been developed for.

Points of intersection, projects on the edges, adventurous art actions.
Corner Art Management is edgy, current, a heap that carries all possibilities at once.

Started in 2015 as a side-project, NOW Books & Music literary-music label-publisher-management just grew and grew until the name became too tight, so from 2020 it carries the burden under a new

This small-run zine collects a selected range of photographs I took on Lofoten Islands, Norway, in the Autumn of 2014. Created for Bergen Art Fair 2015 and printed in a newspaper-like format of 52 pages, 375mm x 520mm, 55gsm. The zine was sold together with a custom-made tote bag, which can be seen in the last picture.
